

Week Ending 11th January 2013

There was 0 entry and 0 exit for the ASX last week.

We trust everyone has had a great break and is looking forward to an exciting 2013, we at WIN Trading Signals certainly are.

We are happy to announce the release of our AutoTraders (automated trading algorithms) which are available for our Gold and Platinum Membership packages. These tools will enable our subscribers to make consistent profits, automatically, even if life gets in the road and you do not have the time to place the orders and monitor the positions.

We have received communications from a number of subscribers to the effect that things have cropped up which required urgent attention, and as a result they were not able to place their orders on time and missed out on some of the profitable trades which have occurred - this prompted us to develop these automated tools.

These tools will be explained in detail on the website over the next week as will the relaunch and the membership packages for the official relaunch next weekend.

The website will also explain the insane offer we have for our existing ACOFE membership as a thank you for your support during the last year of redevelopment and disastrous time with website developers - basically if a member elects to pay for 1 year, they will receive the full platinum package for around 59% off the combined monthly premiums of Platinum - a huge discount as a reward for your patience and feedback. The website will explain this in more details and we will send the correct links out to everyone over the coming week.

Daily Forex and Futures reports will be added over the coming week and we should have a reliable data supplier for Hong Kong within the next 2 weeks.
